To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to recommend G Roques for any development position for any company that provides a challenging work environment and a collaborative team. I was G's supervisor for the better part of a year while he was an intern at National Information Solutions Cooperative. G is a very hard worker and can learn new technologies and programming languages incredibly quickly. He will look for ways to help the team's efficiency and share those gains with everyone who will benefit.

G has a big heart, positive attitude, and will be a great asset for any company. G fits the mold for the ideal team player – Hungry, humble, & smart.

Sincerely,

Justin West
Team Lead, NISC.
